February 21, 2018 - Unusual For Their Time: On the Road with America's First Ladies Vol 1 & 2 by author Andrew Och and published by Tactical 16 is now available at the Edith Bolling Wilson Birthplace Museum in Wytheville, VA. Edith Wilson became the first unofficial female President of the United States when she took over and supervised all access to her husband, President Woodrow Wilson, after he suffered a stroke in 1919. She was one of our country's most important female leaders. So, the Birthplace Museum in Wytheville is a must for anyone who wants to research Mrs. Wilson and learn about her humble beginnings. The First Ladies Man is honored to be featured at such an important location in American History.

Andrew Och is an author, public speaker and award-winning television and multimedia producer. He is a Radio-Television & Film graduate from the University of Maryland who has traveled the world with his pen, paper, and camera in search of remarkable stories.

Och spent over a year traveling across America for the C-SPAN series "First Ladies: Influence and Image." He visited nearly every home, museum, library, school, farm, church, birthplace, and cemetery that helped tell the stories of every First Lady of the United States of America from Martha Washington to Melania Trump. From Colonial Williamsburg to Stanford University he was given an ALL ACCESS – BACKSTAGE PASS to some of the nation's most treasured collections and historical landmarks related to this incredible group of ladies.

Historians, archivists and enthusiasts agree, Andrew's FIRST LADIES MAN project puts him in a small and rare group of people. Along with C-SPAN and the White House Historical association, he is responsible for one of the largest collections of material and information about this unique sorority of women ever assembled.
